CIA Chief Alert for Red Attempt to Arm Americas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)

—The nation's intelligence chief has dropped word of a possible new Communist attempt to arm countries in the Americas.

Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), spoke in a transcribed radio interview last night of "increasing evidence" that the Communists may be offering arms to nations in this hemisphere. He did not mention any countries by name.

Dulles recalled that less than two years ago a shipment of Czech arms to Guatemala alerted the free world to the danger that that country was facing a Communist take-over.

The CIA head said the Reds "are not likely to forget how nearly they succeeded in that and they may try the same thing over again in other parts even on this continent."
